R.C. AID TO RETURN AM. SOLDIER DEAD

MISS TURNER RECEIVES ADVICES FROM HEADQUARTERS.

TO LOCATE RELATIVES

Home Service Sections to Get in Touch With Kin to Complete Burial Arrangements.

Miss Betty Turner, executive secretary of the home service section of the Nodaway County chapter of the Red Cross, has received advices from the southwest divisional headquarters in St. Louis, that home service sections may be asked to cooperate with the war department in connection with the work of returning the bodies of the American soldiers killed in action overseas.

As soon as the time of arrival of the bodies is known the War Department will notify the next of kin and the Red Cross. This information will be transmitted to the proper Red Cross chapter which will be asked to render appropriate aid as a final service to those men who gave their lives for their country. The services the Nodaway county chapter of the Red Cross will be called upon to render will depend largely upon whether or not any remains of men from this vicinity are returned.

A situation arose recently that made clear the necessity for the cooperation that has been worked out. In this instance, because of a change of address, relatives had failed to receive from the War Department the official notice of the return of a slain son. Upon being appraised by newspapers of the scheduled arrival, the family applied to the Red Cross in the emergency for information as to time of landing, requesting help in matters incident to burial arrangements.

It is expected that by the new plan of the War Department, Red Cross Home Service Sections will be able to get in touch with all relatives to whom the message is of vital importance, far enough in advance to allow sufficient time for the completion of all arrangements for burial.

REPUBLICANS FOUND NO FAULT WITH GARDNER ADMINISTRATION

As the proceedings of the Republican State Convention are studied the most notable thing in connection therewith is its failure to assail the Democratic State Administration. Even the old seng, anent deficits, juggling of funds, graft, extravangance and nepotism, heretofore emanating in familiar strains from the Republican camp, is unheard. Indeed, this number seems not to have been on the convention program. Why the omission? The Missouri voters will want to know why and will exercise the right to interrogate Republican leaders and candidates on this proposition.

The truth is Governor Frederick D. Gardner's magnificent leadership and management of the affairs of the state have been such as to completely silence the vociferous voices of our Republican camp choir leaders and the old tunes cherished so long, were left unsung. Whereof Democrats are glad and corresponding gloom prevails among the Republican pie hunters in Missouri. Hurrah for Governor Gardner! The aforesaid silence and failure to assail constitute the finest possible compliment to his administration. Democratic prospects are bright in Missouri and credit for it is due the Gardner administration.—Omar D. Gray's Sturgeon Leader.

CROPS HERE THREE TO FOUR WEEKS LATE

WHEAT YIELD HERE IS ESTIMATED AT 614,380 BUSHELS.

THE PLOWING IS BEHIND

Pasture Condition Was Estimated at 86 Per Cent for This County and Oats 75 Per Cent.

Jefferson City.—That Missouri crops are from three to four weeks late, wheat showing but little improvement during the past month, acreage of abandoned wheat 232,200 acres, increase in meadows 225,000 acres, oats condition 86 per cent normal, spring plowing but 45 per cent completed, pastures 78 per cent of normal, and the forecast of the yield of Missouri winter wheat of 29,137,000 bushels on 2,348,000 acres against 57,699,000 bushels on 4,274,000 acres last year, are the significant and important features of the joint crop report issued today by E. A. Logan and Jewell Hayes of the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture and Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

The following are very important crop facts concerning Nodaway county: The acreage of winter wheat now standing for harvest in this county is 23,140 acres, now indicating a total yield of 614,280 bushels, averaging 17 bushels per acre, the condition now being 89 per cent of normal in this county; hay in this county, 90 per cent; portion of plowing done on May 1, 40 per cent; pasture condition, 86 per cent; oats, 75 per cent.

Missouri wheat made little progress during April because of cool weather and little sunshine. Condition, 75 per cent against 70 per cent April 1st, and 26 points below last May. May condition of 75 per cent indicates yield of 12¾ bushels against a final yield of 13½ bushels in 1919. Overflows, severe winds, Hessian Fly and Chinch Bugs have all taken their toll in certain areas.

Fertilized wheat land shows the better promise. The abandoned acreage of 9 per cent or 232,200 is much larger than for several years, principally in west, southwest and a few north central counties. Spring wheat is sown on small acreage. Rye condition of 85 per cent indicates 13 bushels per acre on about four-fifths of last year's acreage.

Hay condition 90 per cent, 87 per cent last May. Acreage of hay has increased 8 per cent or 225,000 acres over 1919, but does not yet reach the pre-war area. Prairie hay shows an increase of 3 per cent in acreage, with favorable conditions. Meadows are well soaked, promising a good hay crop. The old hay is 10 per cent of last year, or 379,400 tons.

Missouri oats acreage increased 2 per cent over last year, but not to expectations due to conditions during March and April, resulting in reduced acreage in northern section while in south seeding has been more fully up to expectations. Much seeded as nurse crop for grass. Condition 80 per cent.

Spring plowing was on May 1st 45 per cent completed. Spring seeding was 43 per cent finished compared to 62 last May. In the west and southwest 75 to 95 per cent of the corn has been planted; in the east and southeast 25 to 50 per cent, in northern and central from nothing up to 40 per cent plowed.

Pastures 78 per cent of normal, with grass coming rapidly due to the warm weather and sunshine of the last few days.

Deaths among live stock in past year resulted among horses and cattle principally from shortage of feed and by exposure, and among sheep from unusual diseases and lack of care, with losses in lambs and pigs in many instances from Easter storm. Condition of horses and mules, 93 per cent, cattle 91 per cent, sheep 90 per cent, hogs 92 per cent. Reports are made of blackleg and bloat among cattle where feed was shortest during winter, and favorable mention is made of the absence of hog cholera in many sections where farmers now believe it is a thing of the past due to general vaccination.

Fruit prospects are spotted throughout Missouri. Apples and peaches in many of the southern sections were nearly all killed, while in the northern half not so serious. Farm peaches are set fairly well in central and southern sections. Cherries, pears, and "cane" fruits are generally in good condition, not seriously damaged by frosts.

Farm work from three to four weeks late. Corn planting is in full swing, with prospects for planting heavily during next ten to fifteen days. Gardens are late, and potato stands uneven. Strikes prevented shipping of eggs, chickens and calves, and seriously reduced prices. Labor shortage still exists. Good use is being made of tractors, help being utilized to the fullest possible advantage.

BISHOPS OUTLINE CHURCH UNITY

METHODISTS HOLD DISCUSSION OF PLAN LAST NIGHT.

METHODISTS IN FAVOR

General Conference Approves of Unification Based on Principles of Christian World Winning.

Church unity formed the basis of discussion at the mid-week services of the First Methodist church last night. The different divisions of the topic were taken by C. C. Leeson, E. M. Houchins, L. B. Tracy and Ed Howland. This meeting was held in order to bring before the church body, the attitude of the bishops of the general conference of the Methodist church, now in session at Des Moines, Ia.

The statements of the bishops, as given out at the conference for the consideration of the churches, in part is as follows:

What is our chief business in this conference as we face divided and dismembered Christendom? This difficult subject will come before you in many ways. Reports from your Commission on Unification, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the World Conference on Faith and Order, the Inter-church World Movement, and the Conference on Organic Union will bring the entire matter before you in both particular features and general bearings. It is not our province to anticipate the presentation and discussion of these reports. We recommend to you the most careful and prayerful study of them, that nothing shall be done in haste and nothing fail to perfect consideration. This body will reserve well of the ages if it shall make a real and practical contribution to the subject of a working Christian unity, whether in the large or in the particular, whether unity of form or the deeper unity of spirit.

This is one of the profound subjects upon which talk is abundant and confusion easy. Definition is almost wholly lacking and much of the common talk of union altogether misleading. A large part of it hurts the cause of union and injures the existing church. For we must remember that about all the Christianity there is on earth today is in the churches as they exist. The churches of Christ, large and small, with all their weaknesses, divisions, and defects, have really wrought Christianity's actual achievements in the world. The strength of the Christian Church, humanly speaking, is due to the Christian churches. It is not well, therefore, nor in the interest of Christ's cause in the world to discredit the churches in which Christians now have their homes, and through which they do their work. Cheap and easy flings at denominationism, especially at small denominations, do not make a real or large contribution to Christianity. Weakening churches in themselves, or in the minds of their members, especially the minds of their young members, by false liberalism toward union, toward undenominationalism or interdenominationalism, will not help the Kingdom. The evils of sectarianism must not be confused with a rational denominationalism. There is a better way.

And the problem of union is far deeper and more significant than simply fusing two or more denominations and much deeper than any plan of organization. Because it does go so deep it cannot rest on a shallow or small motive, or be secured by resolution. The motive for union must be big enough to carry the movement, big enough to last on all lands, in all years. Getting together simply to save a few dollars or to prevent some overlapping is not an end worth while. The only real motive for union is the winning of the world to Christ. Such union cannot be secured by letting down essential standards, by reducing churches to their lowest terms, or by fatal compromises of truth and principle.

Union is not desirable unless it is right. For the union of likeminded bodies, bodies that are one in heart and spirit, any person might heartily labor. On the other hand, the prevention of a formal union between bodies that are not one in heart and spirit would be a worthy endeavor. Because of its tremendous importance

SAYS SUGAR COULD BE SOLD WITH PROFIT AT 11 1-2 CTS.

Lauck Estimates Profiteering in Sugar Cost U. S. Six Hundred Million in Year Past.

Washington, May 13.—Swollen profits of twelve sugar companies producing more than half the sugar consumed in the United States have inflated the price twenty to twenty-five cents per pound when the same product could be sold with a fair profit at eleven and a half cents per pound, according to W. J. Lauck, consulting economic with the railroad brotherhoods unions in a supplemental profiteering report presented to the railroad board today. According to the present trend, the amount exacted from consumers by sugar profiteers will reach on a conservative estimate at least six hundred million dollars this year or a contribution for the year of thirty dollars for every American family to these "Gougers," Lauck declared.

SOLD CORN AT 21 CTS. PER BUSHEL—OFFERED $2 NOW.

"Hauling corn 25 miles and receiving only 21 cents a bushel for it is some difference to being offered $2 a bushel, with much less time in making the deal," declared O. O. Herndon, pioneer farmer and feeder of Nodaway county, Mo., a local market visitor today with a shipment of hogs. "I'll never forget that trip, made one hot night in August, 1879, to save driving the team in the heat of the day," continued Mr. Herndon. "For the load of good corn I hauled back home a barrel of salt, sack of flour and several other things of less value. A few days ago farmers short on corn were offering $2 a bushel for that grain for feeding and seeding purposes. The best seed corn, however is bringing more money." Mr. Herndon says that a considerable amount of corn has been planted in that locality in the last few days. Owing to the backward spring more listing is being done than in several years, the idea being to get all such work done as quickly as possible in order to have a free hand for other activities as they come along, he says. He speaks of the ground being in good shape where the water has not been standing on it and conditions are favorable for a good crop of corn this season.—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

102 DAM GIVES WAY CUTTING EAST BANK

CEMENT WALL BROKEN THROUGH WEST END HOLDS

RIVER OUT OF BANKS

Debris and Wreckage Being Brought Down From North—Water Service Not Affected Yet.

The cement dam at the water plant of the 102 river has given way some time during the last forty-eight hours, breaking through at a place about one-third the distance from the west side.

The severed part on the east has settled down about eight inches and an equal distance to the south and the water is circling the east end and cutting out the channel both above and below the east end of the dam.

The river has raised over three feet since yesterday afternoon and the water is well over its banks at present and has been for several days. A vast amount of drift wood, piling and timbers from the north are floating down and as the water lowers there is grave danger of this debris carrying the entire structure of the dam along. The entire top of a bridge about 28 feet in width and some 30 foot cedar piling was brought down the river this morning and men working with grappling hooks pulled the wreckage to one side of the bank so that it will not strike the broken dam.

The present dam was built on 1912 and is concrete, built with a straight drop and no spillway. Such a break as has now come, has been anticipated for several years, as the dam has shown signs of weakening. Two years ago the city water company built wooden sheds at each side and put in additional piling reinforcements in an effort to divert the force of water at the sides. The west side is still holding.

The water has entered the filteration room of the water plant and filled the ditches creating considerable trouble for the pumping station but so far it is not affecting the water supply and there is little possibility of the water service being hindered while the water remains high.

The dam is not in condition to be mended and a new one will have to be built.

The bridge over the new Nodaway channel west of Burlington was washed out yesterday by the high water. This bridge is known as the middle bridge in the Burlington Junction community. The river was very high yesterday but it is reported to be falling today. The banks of the channel at the place of this bridge have been cut away by the water.

The 102 river is also bank full and it was impossible to travel across Carr bridge of that river today.

OUTLINE CHURCH UNITY

the union of churches must be on the right basis. The goal is so desirable that we must not be turned aside into a false path or give up our effort to find a true one.

We must ask of all movements for union or federation four questions and determine our attitude to them by the answer they make: 1. Does the movement make for a real brotherhood of Christian people? 2. Does the movement make for the real unity of all sections, races, nations, and classes within Christ's church? 3. Does the movement make for unity of life, unity of sacrifical, atoning purpose toward men, unity in the holiness and passion of the church's life, like the unity between Christ and the Father? 4. Does the movement make for evangelistic efficiency and the triumph of the cross among all peoples, all classes, all races and on all continents? By its answer to these searching questions the movement must be tested both in its general and in its particular features.

Therefore in answer to our now historic question, we ask you to declare in clear and ringing tones that the Methodist Episcopal Church will work together with any church that works with and for Jesus Christ; that we will worship together with any church that worships him and makes Him Lord and Master of its life; that we will keep step with any church that marches toward the goal of his desire; that we live together with any church anywhere, of any color or class, that lives with him, lives for him, and lives like him; that we count our church dear unto us only for the sake of him and his Kingdom, and are willing to lose our life that he may find his in the world. If in the long pull together, the world-lift through the years, we find our dear church melting and merging with others into one church of Christ, we shall cry out joyfully, "It must increase." And we shall find our final immortality as John the Baptist found his, not by our self-assertion, but by merging our lives with his, by subordinating our lives to his, by running ahead to make the paths of his Kingdom straight and smooth in the world.

To other churches we repeat John Wesley's old question and make it our own: "Is thy heart as my heart?" Do you love what we love? Do you love Jesus Christ our Lord? Do you love his whole truth, his whole work, his whole people, his whole program, his perfect Kingdom? Do you hate what we hate? Do you hate evil to all men? If so, we join hands with you. Let us work together as one. And because unity is so desirable we reverently endeavor to make our church strong and efficient, and to put unity on a basis that will secure it. Because the goal is so important we will try every good way to reach it. If the true plan has not yet been found, let us not weaken or falter in our effort to find it. It is not easy to change old relations or to reverse historic movements. Nevertheless, we must look forward as well as backward. The church is a living institution whose future is precious and vital to Christ and the world. It is ours to make it worthy of him and useful to him in his total work for the world.

Sharp twinging pains often caught me in the small of my back, especially when I bent over. My back became very lame and sore and I was in a bad way until I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills, which I purchased at the Rexall Drug Store. The Difference.

1911 and 1920.

Some years ago when wifie bought
A round steak at the store,
She'd pound it very gently
Lest folks should hear next door.

But now when we can dig up coin
To buy a juicy round
She opens wide the window
And you should hear her pound.

What method of negotiation or communication between the Congress and a foreign government does the Constitution provide for? Can anyone answer?
